

A multi-tiered chandelier with a central stem and multiple arms holding white, conical lampshades. The fixture has a dark, possibly black, metal frame. It features a central vertical stem that branches out into several curved arms. Each arm holds a white, conical lampshade. The shades are arranged in a tiered fashion, with some at the top and others lower down. The overall design is symmetrical and modern.

Weight: 23 Pounds

